

DT2112, VT2017 Course Analysis

Jens Edlund, edlund@speech.kth.se

Course overview

The course is given in the 3rd period each year, from January through March. It is taken by students from a range of programmes and is part of the Media Technology and Computer Science programmes. The course also accepts students from the Master of Linguistics at Stockholm University and from the Language Technology programme at Uppsala University.

The course awards 7.5 points and is graded A, B, C, D, E, FX, F. It consists of five full days of lectures and labs, a two week group project, and a home exam.

The teachers are Jens Edlund, Olov Engwall, Jonas Beskow, David House, Gabriel Skantze, Joakim Gustafsson, Jens Edlund, Giampiero Salvi. Each teacher presents lectures within their main research field.

Students

45 KTH students were admitted, out of which 15 did not show up. Of the 30 remaining, 28 passed (83%). The 25 KTH participants came from 8 different programmes (TMAIM, CINEK DKOI, CDATE, CMETE, TIMTM, TCSCM, TEBSM INMV, CINTE).

The division of grades was as follows: 8 A, 9 B, 10 C, 1 E, 2 F (average estimate 3.57/5).

Changes from VT16

The preparations to switch course platform took rather a lot of time. In addition to that, the learning criteria that were implemented in VT2016 were tweaked a little to remove some confusion and properly added to the course description.
