The discussions were very rewarding and challenging academic thinking.

High quality of content! The material given, from the book to the articles, to the feedback was extremely interesting and of high cognitive value.

It gave me new perspective and knowledge.

The organization and content of the course was great, the sessions were really fun and dynamic, and the discussions were very relevant and open for us to adapt to our own work.

I loved the content and format of this course.

As this is an area that has concerned my studies for years I have been lucky enough to have read a lot prior to this course but as always we learn every minute, from everyone we interact with especially in courses where high quality "brains" meet.

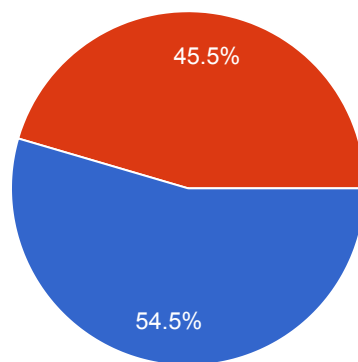

Most of the content from the book we read in the course was new for me.

My research area overlaps with part of the course content and so far I only engaged with that part. This course provided me a general understanding and background information about the content of the course where my research interest is part of it.

When Kia is the teacher you always expect the best and this is what we got in this course. The best from the best!!!!

The online aspect of the course scared me a bit but it ended up being very dynamic, fun and relaxed.

Not difficult in the sense of having a lot to do, but positively difficult as in challenging my thinking.

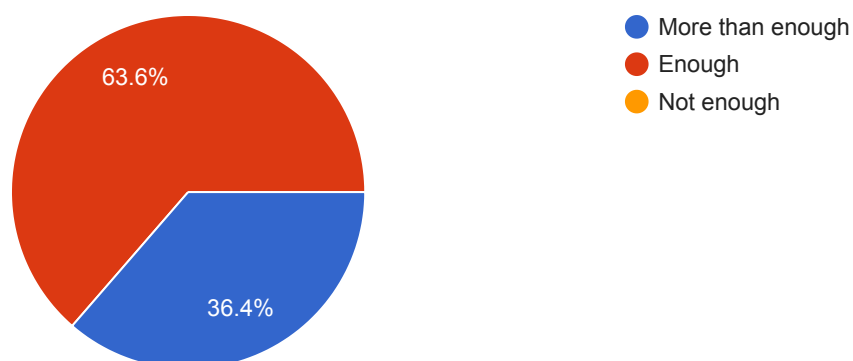

As all PhD courses the readings are always densed but this is what a PhD is. We are used to it, we love it and we live for this!!!!

Not hard as in difficult, but did a lot of thinking that took me quite some time.

I expected it but it could also be a bit better paced or spread over more seminars.

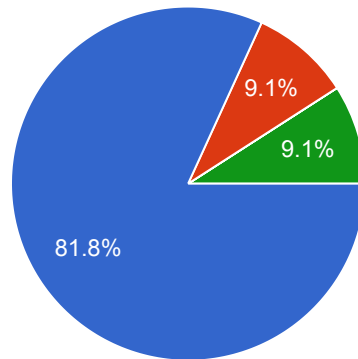

At some points the readings were overwhelming but I'm glad I put time and effort into them

I think I'd like more time to discuss each chapter and paper in order to dig down deeper if I'd take something similar again.

8. What do you think about the course format - reading the book, discussing, reading some more, discussing, and finally meeting Shaowen Bardzell?

11 responses

- It was a good combination of theory and practice
- It worked fine, but I would prefer another format
- I did not get enough guidance through the subjects
- Excellent combination.

Excellent combination, would have loved to have more of Shaowen!!!!

it was nice that everyone was responsible of organising the seminars.

Having the discussion with Shaowen Bardzell was so interesting.

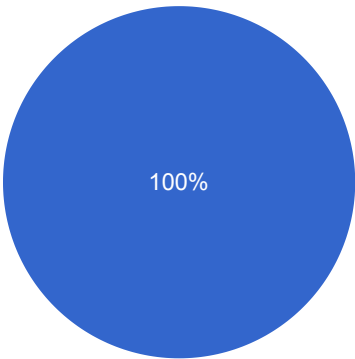

I love this format and would like to always have something similar going on.

I really like the format of the course. Especially meeting Shaowen Bardzell was a great ending of the course, it clarified various concepts that were stuck in my head.

The amount of thinking that the course inspired was definitely on par with the credits awarded. I am thinking still....

It's hard to measure, because I was thinking a lot about this course doing other things like working out and building stuff for other projects. But if forced to do that isolated, I think I spent a bit more than the credits worth.

11. Comments and suggestions on how to improve the course

Thank you for the course!

A joined paper in the end would be helpful, both because teams would spend more time together and exchange ideas and also because they would go through the difficult procedure of writing!!!

It would have been nice with a practical exercises as well!

The reading seminars evoked a lot of interesting discussion but I am curious how adding some practical work alongside the discussion could look like. Overall, it was a thought-provoking and intriguing course - it was awesome to meet Shaowen! Thanks, Kia.

Not a comment about the course but I think it would be nice to organize future courses in similar formats, reading a book but also bringing in recent literature towards the end.

Some more time to talk and dig a bit deeper when needed.
